DD PALMER FAMILY TREE: Posted on FB 30 Nov 2014 by TW

The earliest history of this family begins with William Palmer who is first found in America in the Plymouth Colony Records where it is recorded that on Jan. 7, 1638/9 at a Court of Assistants for that colony, and on Sept. 3, 1639, he was "propounded to be free at the next court as an inhabitant of Yarmouth" and on Sept. 1, 1640 he was admitted a freeman and took the oath.

"Yarmouth was granted by the Plymouth Court as a settlement at this time and William Palmer was among the first persons to take up residence there in the early part of 1639. Yarmouth is located on Cape Cod in about the center of the Cape, just east of Barnstable."

It is believed that William Palmer was of London, England, or vicinity. (Palmer Families in America, p. 10).

"He was evidently in the Plymouth colony at least a year earlier for in June 1638 he was commissioned an Ensign (Price's Colonial Lists of Plymouth and R.I. Colonies, 1887, p. 69) but there seems to be no record of this in the Plymouth records, and on May 10, 1639 he was called Sergeant and on Sept. 27, 1642 he was made Lieutenant by the Court at Plymouth. The Court on that date ordered that the company against the Indians should have Miles Standish as Captain and William Palmer as Lieutenant (Ply. Colony Rec. Vol. II. p. 65), and again in the year 1645 he was appointed Lieutenant under Standish (Vol. II p. 88). Earlier than this on Sept. 3, 1639, the Court granted to William Palmer the right to "exorcise the inhabitants of yarmouth in the use of arms" (Vol. I, p. 130). The list of males up to 60 yrs. of age who were able to bear arms in the Plymouth Colony in 1643 included William palmer of Yarmouth (Vo. VIII, p. 194)."

"In 1652 a company of English from various places in mass. and Conn. arrived in Newtown, L.I. and made a settlement there under the jurisdiction of the Dutch in New Netherlands. This settlement was originally called Middleboro until 1665 when the name was changed to Newtown, and this settlement is now in the Borough of Queens, New York City, between Long Island City and Jamaica. Among these English settlers were Lieut. William Palmer of Yarmouth, Henry Feake of Snadwich or Barnstable and others."
